Chapter 2
INTRODUCTION

In the last decades, Customs administrations have been developing automated systems with a view to improving trade facilitation and to pursuing effectively their objectives of revenue collection, social protection, and the provision of data and intelligence to government in support of management and policy decisions. These initiatives have gone hand in hand with programs to modernize Customs and border management, leading to simplification of trade processes and more effective Customs administration overall.

The Omani Customs recognizes that the most important key for the international competitiveness is to shorten the time to release imports into Oman. Thus, drastic change and modernization of the Customs Clearance System is critical for the progress of the Omani economy and for the improvement of the total logistics system of Oman, which can be achieved by having all stakeholders to work under one umbrella known as single window.

Single Window is a platform that is government mandated and allow for the submission of information to fulfill regulatory requirements between economic operators and government authorities. A Single Window is a single-entry point for data, and data should only be submitted once.

Bayan is a single window system allows parties involved in trade and transport to lodge standardized information and documents with a single-entry point to fulfil all import, export and transit-related regulatory requirements.

Bayan System is an important trade facilitation tool. The WTO Trade Facilitation Agreement encourages all its members to set up a Single Window. (Article 10.4). The International Chamber of Commerce Custom Guidelines 2012 also support the use of a national Single Window and the WCO developed guidelines on how to set up a Single Window.

If implemented effectively, a Single Window project can achieve the following benefits.

- For the government as a whole: increase in government revenue, enhanced compliance with rules, improved efficiency in resource allocation, better trade statistics,

- For economic operators, such as traders: faster clearance times, a more transparent and predictable process and less bureaucracy,

- For an administration such as Customs: improved staff productivity through the upgraded infrastructure, increase in customs revenue, a more structured and controlled working environment, and enhanced professionalism,

- For the national economy as a whole: improved transparency and governance and reduced corruption, due to fewer opportunities for physical interaction.

Bayan business processes are a collection of related and structured activities designed to achieve the one-time presentation of information by trade and transport actors. These processes also include reverse flows of information, from government agencies to businesses.
